

House We Built is a captivating drama series that follows X, a Black House DJ at the heights of fame and wealth who revolutionized House Music, only to lose himself in the process.

Determined to rediscover his identity and cement his legacy, X embarks on an almost impossible quest to create the world's greatest House venue by turning back towards the Black and LGBTQ roots of the genre.

Weaving between the rich, untold histories of House music and X's present, the series follows X and the industry insiders that made him famous. The story is a thrilling, surreal, and music-driven odyssey of passion, sacrifice, and artistic truth as he confronts personal demons, industry rivalries, and the cost of power and success.

House We Built invites you to experience the beat, lose yourself in the rhythm, and witness the rebirth of a legend in the intoxicating world of House Music, all through the lens of Black culture and its profound impact on the genre.
